Abstract

This paper presents the agricultural and agro alimentary products Wholesale Market with its objectives, specific activities, as well as its different types of beneficiaries.

We are also presenting the Wholesale Market in Romania. After looking into this you will know more about the surrounding realities, you will find out that the Wholesale Market in Romania is underdeveloped and it is not encouraged, that the Ministry of Agriculture does not have funds for the international participation of the Romanian agricultural associations, that the infrastructure not modern as well and with very weak links to the external markets. This is how we can explain the very slow rhythm of aligning the structure of the offer with the one of the demand for agricultural and agro alimentary products both on the internal and external market.
